Family Learning Workshops Cycle 5

During the week beginning Monday 26 February, we will commence the next cycle of home learning workshops. Apart from reading and maths elements, we will also be exploring oral hygiene in response to the release of data from Westminster NHS services.

Having experienced the one-minute word count fluency test with your child, we hope that you have been putting aside the time to develop your child's reading speed and fluency, especially if they did not achieve the expectation of 100 words per minute. Also in Nursery and Reception, you have been uploading observations at home, so be ready to share your favourite observation.

Your continued support is allowing us to maintain excellent communication with our community, and keep you up to date with the latest information and performance data. At this workshop, you will receive the latest grammar and arithmetic test results, and average spelling test scores for the past half term. We look forward to learning together with you again on the following dates. Please put these in your calendar to ensure you have planned ahead to support your child.

key maths skills through singing various maths songs and rhymes, along with recapping previous learning in a pacy way. On Tuesday 20th February, we will be opening the school again to invite you to join us from 8.45 to 9.15am. This time, you will observe phonics in Nursery, Reception and Year 1 and Read to Succeed in Years 2 to 6.

The turnout of visitors last half term was less than the previous half term, so we hope you can find 30minutes to join us on this occasion to gain ideas for how to support your child in reading, the subject area that requires the most improvement across the school. If you would like to join us, then please wait in the foyer until 8.45am, and then join your children's classrooms. If you have more than one child at Paddington Green, please make sure you spend some time in each of their classrooms. Please be ready to take part in activities with your children, so they all feel equally valued. On this occasion be ready to join in with practising sounds, practising the pronunciation of new vocabulary and reading aloud! We look forward to your eager interest in our classrooms.
