The table above shows the percentage of parents and carers that attended our fourth cycle of home learning workshops. As you can see attendance remains good or excellent and we would like to take this opportunity to say a very big thank you for your continued commitment. We are particularly pleased with the increased active participation and the many thoughtful contributions you shared with us.

The dates for our next and final round of workshops this year are listed below. If you have not yet put the date for your children's workshops into your mobile or diary, please take a moment to do so and put plans in place to attend. Our children feel very proud and excited on these workshops days in anticipation that a member of the family is going to come to work together with them at school. This is a special experience for them and for us, so when a member of the family does not come, we feel their disappointment deeply too.

Some of the themes for the next cycle will be how you can keep learning alive over the long summer holiday and library membership.

Parents' evening

The table below shows the percentage who attended parents' evenings this week. Thank you for putting aside the time to attend the appointment with your child's teacher. Parents evenings are a really good way of showing your child that you value their education and for finding out how they are progressing at school. They are also important for us as they enable us to get to know you and your children better and therefore this helps us to teach them more effectively. Children who see our school and their family working together get a lot more out of school and that is an outcome we all want.

A very small minority of families did not come to their appointments, nor call us to explain why. These families are all expected to make an alternative appointment before or after school, before the end of next week so you can be informed about your child's progress and areas for development.

Summer Fair volunteers

We are happy to announce that we will be holding a summer fair again this year during the month of July. Members of the governing body will be volunteering their time to organise the event. We would like to reach out to the community and ask that if you are able to offer some of your time to help make it a special day, please give your name and contact details in to the office.
