Building update – balcony on Crompton Street

Further to our previous communication regarding the entrance to the school, a structural surveyor has visited and confirmed that the classrooms and all other areas of the school are safe to use and appear structurally sound.

The only area that needs to remain out of bounds is immediately below the balconies at the Crompton Street entrance (see above). This is because one of the external beams has become loose, and is currently being supported by Acrow props. Further support for the balcony is being put in place this weekend and a full inspection of the joinery will take place in the May half-term break. The necessary repairs will then follow.

The Crompton Street entrance door can again be used with access via the ramp. Heras fencing is in place to cordon off the areas that should not be accessed.

Fidget spinners

The latest craze for children is this flat palm-sized toy with three prongs which can be flicked and spun around between your fingers. Fidget spinners are remarkably simple: a piece of funky-shaped plastic or metal orbits a bearing, often for minutes at a time with a single spin and is a lot of fun, however instead of keeping them at home, many children are bringing them to school.

Toys are not allowed at school as they risk disrupting learning, can lead to conflicts and can be mislaid or lost. Please check your child's rucksack and pockets to ensure they are left at home. Fidget spinners will be confiscated and kept in the school office where parents can collect them.

Catering – Halal food

The school has received the results of the investigation into the potential serving of non-halal meat. The catering company have provided suitable reassurance to the school that the correct controls are now in place with their supplier to prevent any repeat incidents. As such, over the course of the next week, halal meat options will be reinstated on the school lunch menu. If you would like to see the menu please come to the office.
